

Portfolio Banking Technology 2020 program

The conference will be held online, delivering the best user experience possible.

Section I: Bank digitalisation vs business - Pedal to the metal or time to hit the brakes?

Digitalisation has been an important efficiency-improving tool of business executives for many years, and its role has become even more prominent during the coronavirus pandemic as online and mobile banking, good UXs and data-based sales all came to the fore. Meanwhile, top managers must also handle the challenges arising from the crisis and must strike a fine balance between supporting development and meeting cost-cutting targets. Bank executives will tell us about the strategies they have chosen.
